RETHINKING INTERNATIONAL SOLIDARITY IN AN AGE OF NATIONALISM

Panel and reception to celebrate a transition between heads of office at RLS-NYC

Wednesday, August 15
5:00 - 10:00pm
New York Academy of Medicine
1216 5th Ave. (corner of Central Park East and 103rd St.)

Join us, together with prominent activists from across North America and Europe, to discuss how international political solidarity can defeat right-wing nationalism, and how we can work together to build a shared socialist vision for the 21st century.

At this event we will bid farewell to RLS-NYC co-directors Stefanie Ehmsen and Albert Scharenberg, whose time as heads of office has come to a close, and welcome incoming director Andreas Günther.

RSVP by August 1st to ethan.earle@rosalux.org or (917) 409-1044.
SCHEDULE

5:00-5:30pm
Welcome and coffee

5:30-7:00pm
How can we practice international political solidarity to counter the rise of right-wing nationalists intent on undermining democracy? How can we link this defensive struggle to a transformative vision for socialism in the 21st century?

7:00-7:15pm
Coffee break

7:15-8:00pm
What is the role of the Rosa Luxemburg Stiftung in the international political arena, and what can it do to support and strengthen collaborations on the pluralist left?

8:00-10:00pm
Reception